

MONITORING PROGRESS IN EUROPE'S CIRCULAR ECONOMY

THE BELLAGIO PROCESS

Webinar 2 – Monitoring Experience (Countries) The 'how to monitor' question

Aim: With a point of departure in a first draft of the Bellagio declaration, a select number of countries are invited to present national initiatives around CE monitoring. This will be followed by a discussion on roles of national reporting, gaps in monitoring, relevant monitoring principles and possible strategies to fill some of the gaps.

Wednesday 17 June 2020 – 10:00 – 13:00 (CEST)

Time	Agenda item
09.55 – 10.00	Connection to WebEx open for participants
10.00 – 10.20	Welcome and overview of the agenda Peder Jensen, Expert on resource efficiency in a circular economy (EEA) Overview of the Bellagio Process and introduction to the draft Bellagio Declaration Luca Demicheli, Head of International Affairs and Institutional Relations (ISPRA)
10.20 – 10.35	Vision for, and experience in circular economy monitoring in Finland Tuuli Myllymaa, Head of Unit for Waste and Circular Economy, Finnish Environment Institute (SYKE)
10.35 – 10.50	Discussion
10.50 – 11.05	National monitoring for a European framework and the role of targets seen from the Netherlands Aldert Hanemaaijer, Coordinator Program Circular Economy, Netherlands Environmental Assessment Agency (PBL)
11.05 – 11.20	Discussion
11.20 – 11.25	5-minute comfort break
11.25 – 11.40	Monitoring principles suited for all countries as seen from Slovakia Barbora Bondorová, Director of the Department of Environmental Policy, Ministry of Environment of the Slovak Republic
11.40 – 11.55	Discussion
11.55 – 12.55	Moderated discussion around the role of countries when it comes to monitoring of circular economy Co-moderated by EEA/ISPRA Planned Interventions: ISO TC 323 WG3 on measuring circularity, Roberto Morabito, Director of Dept. of Sustainability of ENEA Circular Economy in Manufacturing, Massimiliano Mazzanti, Prof. of Economic Policy, University of Ferrara Circular Economy Initiative Deutschland, Susanne Kadner, Director, CEID, German Academy of Science and Engineering The first part of the discussion will be between the speakers and a number of invited discussants. This will be followed by a part where all participants are invited to contribute.

12.55 – 13.00

Wrap up

Peder Jensen, Expert on resource efficiency in a circular economy (EEA)

